THE PRESBYTERIANS.

The Old School General Assembly.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 1, 1869.

In the Old School Presbyterian Assembly to-day, resolutions defining the policy toward freedmen, were adopted, except one in favor of employing ministers connected with the Southern Church, provided they were placed in the same connection with this Assembly, which was tabled.

The Moderator appointed the following Committee on Northern Seminaries in accordance with a resolution adopted yesterday: Senator Drake, Mo., Rev. Dr. Mugrave, Penn., Craven, N. J., Backus, N. Y., and Elder McCorkell, Philadelphia.

The report of the Domestic Missions Committee was discussed and adopted, as were resolutions defining the policy on that subject for the ensuing year.

Resolutions were adopted recommending the Biddle Memorial Institute at Charlotte, N. C., for the education of colored ministers, to the christian liberality of the church for adequate endowment.

A resolution was also adopted that the Committee on Systematic Beneficence prepare and send to Synods and Presbyteries the proportionate amount to be raised, with the understanding that the following be in the general estimates: Foreign Missions, $310,000; Domestic Missions, $250,000; Education, $250,000; Publication, $50,000; Disabled Ministers' Fund, $40,000; Church Extension, $90,000; total, $875,000.

A resolution was adopted earnestly addressing upon ministers and Christian people the necessity of more strenuous efforts to prevent the desecration of the Sabbath.

The report on the theological seminaries was discussed, particularly the portion relating to the Danville Seminary, Kentucky.

Dr. Yerkers was elected to fill a vacancy in the Board of Directors of the class of 1870 of that institution, and Dr. West of the class of 1871. The report was then adopted.

A series of preambles were read regarding the letter of the proclamation addressed by the Pope to all Protestants and non-Catholics throughout the world, and resolutions passed that a Committee of three be appointed to co-operate with a similar one of the General Assembly meeting in the Church of the Covenant, who should prepare and publish a reply which might be regarded as an expression of the sentiment of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

A report of Rev. Mr. Beers, in New School Assembly, was read, against the practice of divorce and parental infanticide extensively spreading, and urging it be read in all churches of the country. This was emphatically negatived.

A report was adopted regarding the abolition of any responses by the audience to the reading from the pulpit as Ritualistic, and also of kneeling. It referred to former deliverances on the subject.

Rev. Mr. McKnight made an address in favor of extending pecuniary aid to the test question arising in Kentucky Courts whether the acts of ecclesiastical Courts were constitutional. A civil Court had decided them unconstitutional, which decision was reversed by the United States Circuit Court and the case has been appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

Resolutions were adopted that the General Assembly should give that Church assistance in its litigation, and appropriating five thousand dollars to employ the best counsel to defend the case before the United States Supreme Court.

After the passage of the usual resolutions of thanks, a brief address from the Moderator and devotional exercises, the Assembly adjourned to meet in Pittsburgh, on Wednesday, November 10th.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 1, 1869.

The receipts from internal revenue sources yesterday were $286,600.

Richard H. Curry has been appointed Register of the Land Office at New Orleans.

Major J. H. Smith, Judge Advocate, has been assigned to duty at headquarters Department of Missouri.

It has been erroneously stated that Secretary Fish has effected an arrangement with the Spanish Secretary for foreign affairs, by which the Spanish Minister here has power to settle all ordinary questions arising between the United States and Spain with reference to Cuba. The arrangement is between the Minister and the Captain General of Cuba, by which certain classes of cases heretofore brought before the Captain General will be adjusted at Washington through the Spanish Minister.

The public debt statement has been delayed until to-morrow, owing to the fact that all the accounts are not yet properly prepared. The opinion prevails at the Treasury Department that the statement will show a large reduction, though it is not positively certain the decrease will be ten millions. It will also exhibit heavy coin and currency balances.

A proclamation has just been signed, and will be duly promulgated, for the public sale of lands, embracing about 2,500,000 acres, to take place at Denver City, Colorado, commencing on the 13th of September next.

It is said Lewis A. Douglass, the colored printer, was yesterday transferred from case to a position as copy holder. This action would seem to take the question of admission of colored members to the typographical union out of the control of such organizations, as copy holders are not required to be members of such unions, but the issue having been raised, it will be probably pressed to a decision.

Are there no Good Girls?

The N. Y. Express, not long since contained this piquant little article:

Has no one seen a good girl lately? Are girls nowadays much worse than those of yore? The newspapers would make me think so. Every journal which I pick up has one or more columns devoted to railings against women, until I have become frightened and find myself wondering, if I too am one of the dreadful creatures. And are these articles written by men? If so, they must be men without homes or families, who have mixed with a debased class of society. For surely no honorable man, no real gentleman could publish an article—such as we daily peruse—denouncing all the gentler sex as extravagant, jealous, faithless, nay, even immodest, and go home to receive the kiss of a dear wife or meet the innocent eyes of a bevy of sisters or daughters. Would he not shrink appalled at what he has done? knowing that he had sowed the seed in the minds of younger men for thoughts and feelings that would never have arisen there without teaching. Now, I am young, and am worldly wise, yet I have had my little experience, and I must say that I have met with many pure, good women,—kind mothers, loving wives, dutiful daughters, affectionate sisters—women who are not for ruining their husbands or fathers by extravagance; who are not falling in love with every handsome man they see; who are not eloping every other day with family physicians or husband's friends; but are devoted to their families, and sensible in every respect. And I have met very few good men. I regret it; I do not wish to speak against the men-folk, for I rather like them, and am willing to say that my experience has been, perhaps, unfortunate. And I am inclined to believe that as in all ages there have existed noble men—"Faithful in love, brave in war," so they may still be found—faithful in love (when there is plenty of money), brave in war (when there is a Major-Generalship ahead), and pretty good usually when the skies are serene and they have nothing to cross them.

And now I claim a champion. Will not some one be brave enough to stand in opposition to popular opinion, and truthful enough to say to the public that he has seen at least one or two real good girls in the course of a year! If such a one can be found, I will thank him warmly, and will think that honesty is not yet extinct from the race of men.

The City Bank, No. 142 Fifth Avenue.

This institution, through a wise and careful management of its affairs, a liberal policy towards depositors and business men, and a judicial regard for all classes having dealings with it, has rapidly gained high position in the estimation of the general community, and daily meets with increased patronage and favor. Its directors are recognized among our most responsible and cautious business men, who, while guarding the interests of stockholders take care that all their patrons find it advantageous to bestow their business in that direction. Organized with a large and easily working capital, thoroughly safe and secure, and supplied with officers and tellers courteous and obliging, it is little occasion for wonder that the City Bank is so popular and that it is justly regarded as one of our very first banking institutions. Time depositors are allowed liberal interest on their moneys, while discounts of acceptable paper are made on the most reasonable terms. The bank has extensive correspondence at home and abroad and is prepared to issue drafts and transact all customary financial business in a highly satisfactory manner. From long personal acquaintance with many of the gentlemen intimately associated with the management of its affairs, we are prepared to recommend it to our readers in the highest terms, and bespeak for it a full share of the patronage within the award of our friends.

Memorial Sermon.

Sabbath evening last, the time-honored Liberty street Methodist Episcopal church was comfortably filled to hear a "Memorial discourse," by Rev. W. H. Locke, A. M., pastor of that congregation. Mr. Locke was over three years Chaplain of the famous Eleventh Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, commanded by the gallant Col. Dick Coulter. This regiment, it is well known, was one of the regiments of three months' men, and continued in service until Lee surrendered. Chaplain Locke has seen years of hard service, and as few Chaplains have experienced. His excellent work, "The Story of the Regiment," shows very conclusively the character of his services in the army. To hear one who has had such a thrilling experience, would very naturally attract a large audience.

The discourse was carefully prepared with "fitly chosen words," and in a style which gave evidence that the Chaplain had proper conceptions of the grand event commemorated on Saturday. Lessons of instruction were also embodied in the discourse, in which the reverend speaker showed that the hand of God was singularly displayed in our behalf.

The discourse was based on the following passage from the Psalms: "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad." Reference is made in the brief introductory remarks, to the generons course of the people in their observance of "Decoration Day," and to the fact that Religion and Patriotism are wedded in undivorcable bonds. Love of country never conflicts with our love to God; and he who is most loyal to Truth and Righteousness, is the truer lover of his country. The chaplain argued that the Religion of the Bible approved of the embalming of the memory of the great and good, and it is right and proper that we should revere the memory of those who gave their lives for the nation's weal. He assumed that the grand results of that struggle, by which a country is freed from a great wrong,—a country triumaphant over a great evil,—a country regenerated in thought, word, and deed, has come up out of that bitter struggle wherein our kindred went down in death; and as we pause near to decorate their green graves with the first flowers of Summer, the satisfactory present and the large promising future, make the day we celebrate one of gladness rather than of sorrow. The past ten years of our national history—the most wonderful of any era of history since the world began—is too familiar to need even the briefest review. Its changes are inwrought, not only upon the face of the country, but upon the hearts and consciences of the people. That which future generations will read with throbbing hearts, and souls all aglow with fire, our eyes have seen. Deeds of heroic daring and devoted patriotism, that shall eclipse all ancient story, were performed by our flesh and blood.

Chaplain Locke then sketched in brief, but in glowing words, the material that the Lord had provided for the nation's redemption, in the dark hour of trial—the potential power of a free school and free press as educators of all classes and in preparing the masses for the battle of ideas; the grand achievements of science and mechanical skill in preparing aids for the aggressive steps of our army, and other preparatory means by Providence. He contended that there was something else needed that neither education, however liberal, nor science, however exact, could impart. The war was not to be one of conquest, or of national aggrandizement. It was to be a conflict of principles—truth and justice against error and injustice; liberty and equality against tyranny and barbarism, and there was needed for this conflict, besides a cultivated intellect, a regenerated heart.

Considerable prominence was given to the thought, of the remarkable outpouring of the Spirit of God, and wonderful revival power, which extended so extensively over our country just before the out-breaking of the war. The effect of this visitation on the army, that marched out of the North singular not only in cultivated intellects, but singular in hearts cultivated in the love of God. He argued further that it was God who maintained the courage of our army when in the darkest days of disaster and defeat. The faith of the army was many times sorely tried—but the faith of the army never once failed. Deep down in every man's heart was wrought the abiding conviction of ultimate triumph. Touching reference was made to the valor, hardships and soldiership of our brave army. The army defeated a second time at the plains of Manasses, and hurled back on the Capital in broken masses, gathered strength in a day; and were the victors at South Mountain and Antietam. The army defeated at Fredericksburgh, and disappointed at Chancellorsville, marching from the banks of the Rappahannock to the interior of Pennsylvania, were the victors at Gettysburg. Great was the valor of that army; its faith in the cause was still greater.

Much stress was placed upon the thought, and very properly too, that it was God that gave to that army its final triumph. The history of this great American conflict is yet to be written. Human wisdom never had a sublimer question to deal with than that presented by the issues of the war. Reference is had to how tenderly old usages and old habits were approached, and the conservative course of those who conducted affairs, principles being sacrificed to prudence. The mode adopted by human wisdom had to be finally abandoned, and the higher wisdom came as from some mountain top of prayer; the nation heard the voice of God speaking through disaster and defeat. The grand finale came, when the Emancipation proclamation was heard, and faithfully observed. Many a hard-fought battle lay between that point and its consummation. But all that was only the price of the nation's redemption. This grand thought was elaborated, in words, massive and in stirring eloquence. This excellent discourse deserves to have a more permanent form, than in the brief sketch we have given.

The Munson Lightning Rod.

Pigeons Stolen.—William Gleise, a young lad, was before Mayor Drum yesterday on suspicion of stealing a lot of pigeons from the premises of Mr. Wm. Dill, in the Second ward. Some eighty pigeons have been carried off, some of which are rare specimens and very valuable. Since the arrest of Gleise twenty-four have been recovered, and it is probable that the great majority of the remainder will be secured. Gleise was held for a further hearing.

Correction.—In our account of the proceedings of City Councils, published yesterday morning, the types made us credit Mr. McClean with offering the resolutions in the Common branch, instructing the Controller to report to Councils the special funds in the Treasury for the redemption of City Railroad Bonds; also in reference to the disbandment of the Neptune Fire Company. Both resolutions were offered by Mr. Clarren, of the Fifth ward, as should have been stated.

Boy Drowned.—Monday afternoon, about four o'clock, a lad named Hofsingle was drowned in Flaugherty Creek, about half a mile from Shousetown, fifteen miles below the city on the Ohio river. FACTORY SONG.

BY MRS. L. S. GOODWIN.

The spindles whirl, the bobbins fill,
A little maid tends the thread,
Singing a song of somebody,
And somebody's name is Fred.
She sings aloud, for none can hear,
So noisily goes the mill,
Telling her secret to many an ear
And keeping her secret still.

The din to her has a goodly sound
Of a carpenter's hammer and saw,
And voices of raisers of cottage walls—
"Heavo! heavo! hurrah!"
Building a home for a married pair—
And somebody's name is Fred,
And somebody's wife is a factory girl
Spinning the slender thread.

O, never she doubts but somebody thinks
Of her as she thinks of him;
Knowing what day their cup of bliss
Will be full to its very brim.
So to and fro in the aisle she goes,
Light-hearted and light of tread,
Thinking how willingly she'll ever work
For the man whose name is Fred.

She doffs the bobbins, they fill again,
And so on all the day;
Then at sound of the bell the little maid
Trips down the stairs and away.
But whether by day or whether by night,
At work or asleep in bed,
Her spirit is singing of somebody,
And somebody's name is Fred.

Ten Thousand Dollars' Worth of Orange Peel.

A man from the country invested five cents in the purchase of an orange, and preparatory to getting himself outside of it, threw the peel on the sidewalk. Soon after a young woman came along, slipped upon the peel and fell, breaking her leg. The woman was to be married the next day, but she wasn't. The man who was to marry her had come from St. Paul, Minn., and was obliged to return on account of business, to await the recovery of the girl. On his way back he unfortunately took a train on the Erie Railroad, which ran off the track, and his shoulder blade was broken, forcing him to stop at Dunkirk for repairs. The Travelers' Insurance Company, in which he was insured, had to pay $258 dollars in weekly installments before he recovered. On getting back to St. Paul he found that his forced absence had upset a business arrangement which he had expected to complete, at a pecuniary loss to him of $5,000. Meantime the injured girl suffered a relapse, which so enfeebled her health that the marriage was delayed, which had a bad effect upon the young man, and he finally broke the engagement and married a widow in Minnesota with four small children. This so worked upon the mind of the girl that she is now in the insane hospital in Middletown. Her father, enraged by the conduct of the young man, brought a suit for breach of promise, and has just recovered $10,000. The anxiety and expense of the whole affair thus far has been enormous, as anybody can see. Similar cases are likely to occur so long as people will persist in throwing orange peel around loose.—Hartford Courant.

How to Tell Good Meat.

In the June Galaxy Dr. Draper describes the proper preparation of animal food for the table. He says that ox beef when bought should be of fine grain, the flesh bright red and firm, the fat white and distributed through the lean. Bull beef should never be used, and heifer beef is inferior. Veal should be dry and close grained; mutton clear deep pink, with fat. Wether mutton is most nutritious and finer flavored as it is darker colored. A small mass of fat on the upper part of the leg marks the best. Pork should be pale and very firm. Bright eyes and supple feet are the marks of fresh birds and poultry. Fresh fish have bright eyes also, fine red gills and a stiff body. They ought to be kept and sold alive. When meats are to be boiled, the water should boil before the meat is introduced. Baked beef is not like roasted. A tin roaster, to fit before the fire, should always be employed. The exterior coating on the meat secured thus prevents the escape of the flavorous portions, without toughening. The cooking after this coating is secured should be slow. The article is quite learned, and in other points makes this in favor of Banting, that there is no reason why we should not fatten or reduce a human being as we would one of the lower animals.

MICROSCOPES, of a high power, have been purchased in many of the public schools of New York city, by means of weekly penny contributions for "peeps" made by the scholars. The pupils and teachers, it is stated, exhibit a growing taste for the study of natural and scientific subjects. One of the superintendents of the Public Schools has been engaged in promoting these studies, and during the last seven months has distributed ninety-five lenses and twelve compound lenses, which were paid for in the way mentioned. The Microscopical Society, of New York, on being informed of these facts, promised to furnish to the schools a handsome number of mounted "objects" from the duplicates.

A FARMER residing in one of the townships east of Zanesville, in the year 1867 harvested about two thousand bushels of wheat, for which he was offered, in the fall of that year, $2,50 per bushel. This he refused, thinking the price would advance, which it did not. Last fall he refused $2,00 a bushel for the grain, and now could not sell it for more than $1,25, with a very fine prospect of being still lower.

From the St. Louis Democrat.

Tragedy on the Plains.

The following communication has all the semblance of a truthful narrative, and we give it for what it is worth. It comes to us by mail with an apparently reliable name attached, but the writer is not known to us:

PHIL. SHERIDAN, KANSAS, May 20, 1869.

About the first of March, four young men arrived here from the East, named respectively, J. G. Doran, of Steubenville, Ohio; R. T. Smith, of Cincinnati; J. W. Shryock, of Johnstown, and F. W. Head, of Williamsport, Pennsylvania. After stopping here some six weeks, they fitted themselves out with horses and the necessary equipments for a trip through to New and Old Mexico.

They left here about the 15th of April, with the above object in view. On the first of May, while in the vicinity of Antelope Hills, they were attacked by a small body of Cheyennes, about twenty in number. The party stood their ground, fighting bravely. After several shots had been fired, Smith received an arrow in the left breast, and was the first to fall. Head fell next pierced with seven arrows. Doran received a wound in the right shoulder. Shryock received an arrow in the left arm and one in the right side, but kept up his firing until he received one in the breast, when he dropped his gun and fell from his horse. Doran, seeing how useless it would be to contend against such superior numbers, surrendered himself.

The Indians gathered about their victims, shouting and dancing with savage delight. They took their scalps, and taunted Doran by slapping him in the face with them. The Indians did not escape unhurt. Seven of their number bit the dust, and three were wounded. They threatened their prisoner's life, and taunted him by brandishing their knives and tomahawks in close proximity to his head. He being of a cool and undaunted nature, gave but little heed to their threats. After disposing of their dead they took up their line of march, and traveled west about ten miles, where they encamped for the night. They prepared their suppers, and ate without providing for their prisoner.

Doran, knowing that he would receive harsh treatment as long as he remained in their hands, set about conjuring a plan of escape. Having on his person a pocket case of medicines, among which was a couple of vials of tincture of opium, he conceived the idea of drugging some brandy, of which he had a quart in his possession. Watching his opportunity he succeeded in accomplishing his object, and, turning to his captors, he raised the bottle to his mouth, pretending to drink. One of them, seeing it, rushed forward and snatched it from his hands, and, raising it to his lips, drank. After taking a draught he passed it to the next, and it passed around the entire circle.

As he expected, it worked like a charm. In a short time they all began to feel drowsy. Placing two over the prisoner for a guard, the rest wrapped themselves in their blankets and give themselves up to sleep. The drug was too powerful for the guards, and in a few minutes, like their comrades, they too were in a sound sleep. Doran, seeing the opportunity, armed and helped himself to what there was to eat, and mounting his horse, rode away in a westerly direction. About daylight he reached Medicine Bluffs, a point where the Government is establishing a new military post. Leaving there, he reached here in safety on the 18th of this month, and took the train for the East.

It was from him I learned the above facts. He is unacquainted with the address of any of the parties' friends except one. Thinking it might be interesting to some of your readers, and be the means of informing the parents of the sad fate of their sons, I have recorded the above facts.

The young men were all of good moral character, and during their stay here formed some pleasant acquaintances, who held them in high esteem, and deeply sympathize with their friends.

Refused to Get His Life Insured.

A certain Dutchman, owner of a small house, had effected an insurance on it of £800, although it had been built for much less. The house got burned down, and the Dutchman then claimed the full amount for which it had been insured; but the officers of the company refused to pay more than its actual value—about £600. He expressed his dissatisfaction in powerful broken English, interlarding his remarks with some choice Teutonic oaths. "If you wish it," said the actuary of the insurance company, "we will build you a house larger and better than the one burned down, as we are positive it can be done for even less than £600." To this proposition the Dutchman objected, and at last was compelled to take the £600. Some weeks after he had received the money he was called on by the same agent, who wanted him to take out a policy of life insurance on himself or on his wife. "If you insure your wife's life for £2,000," the agent said, "and she should die, you would have the sum to solace your heart." "You 'surance fellows ish all tiefs!" said the Dutchman. "If I insure my vife, and my vife dies, and if I goes to the office to get my £2,000, do I gits all de money? No, not quite. You will say to me, 'She vasn't vert £2,000; she vas vert 'bout £600. If you don't like de £600 ve vill give you a bigger and better vife!'"

INDIANAPOLIS has a Sunday law which was put in force last Sunday against the liquor dealers. They accordingly shut up their shops, but, by way of revenge, went through the city taking notes. On Monday morning following they made affidavits for the arrest of all the livery stable keepers, all the members and employes of the street railway companies, all the editors, writers, reporters, and compositors of all the daily newspapers, and everybody else who could be charged with breaking the Sabbath by doing business on Sunday. The preachers seem to have been the only class of Sunday-workers who were not accused of violating the law.

SOME little time since a young gentleman of serious turn, but scarcely au fait in the matter of literature, called at a book-store in the city of Syracuse to make a purchase. After taking a deliberate and satisfactory survey of the well stocked shelves, he beckoned to a clerk, and pointing to a volume before them, remark: "I've looked over all your books, but don't see anything I care to buy unless it be that book on holy games, which I think would suit." The volume proved to be "Hoyle on Games."

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovarits, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, it at can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enables them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated Vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House, Pittsburgh, Pa.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was rising slowly last evening with eight feet six inches in channel by Monongahela marks. Weather cloudy, unsettled and warm.

Business is moderately active at the landing though nothing to brag of. Freights are rather scarce for all points.

The Argosy from St. Louis, was due last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning.

The Glendale departed for St. Louis yesterday with an excellent trip, her guards almost dragging in the water and about all the passengers she could accommodate. Pilots—Bobo and Marshall.

Capt. Nelson Crooks, a veteran steamboatman and well known at one time as commander of the famous Clipper No. 2, in the palmy days of the Cincinnati packet company, was a passenger on the Glendale. He resides some fourteen miles below Parkgrsburg and was here a few days visiting some friends. Capt. Crooks has not steamboated any for several years, the Kenton, we believe, being the last boat he had command of.

Capt. J. M. Andrews, another veteran steamboatman, but who for two or three years past has been residing at Mt. Gilead, Ohio, is also here on a visit. His numerous friends will be glad to learn that he is much improved in health. He contemplates returning to his old business again this fall.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day leaving promptly at noon.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, is filling up steadily for Cincinnati and Louisville, and will be the first boat out for the above named ports.

—The White River packet Natoma is laid up at Memphis with a broken shaft.

—Captain Willis has sold his interest in the Farragut to G. G. Russell, who is now sole owner of the boat.

—The Government dredge-boat Octavia is lying at St. Joseph waiting for orders. The Snag-boat S. H. Long arrived at Leavenworth on the 26th.

—Another crevasse occurred at Calhoun's plantation, sixty miles above New Orleans, on Monday. The breach is about fifty yards wide.

—The old steamers Lafourche and Gray Eagle are coming up the river soon to Louisville to have their machinery transferred to new boats which are expected out in July.

—The steamer Nick Wall, which sunk in the Missouri River while en route to Fort Benton, and was recently raised by the Submarine No. 14, passed St. Joseph on the 26th bound for St. Louis for repairs. The injured portion of her cargo will be duplicated, and she will probably leave on her return trip about the 10th of June.

—The Era No. 9 accomplished the run from Jefferson to New Orleans, including all landings and stoppage at Shreveport for 53 cords of wood, which consumed four hours, in three days and one hour.

—The Glasgow and Camelia were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial of Sunday: The new tow-boat Ironsides, Capt. M. W. Beltzhoover, arrived from St. Louis with a tow of seven model barges, laden with 1,800 tuns of iron ore for Pittsburgh. She landed at the mouth of the Licking for fuel and stores, after receiving which, proceeded on up the river. She reports the Big Miami running out at a fearful rate, with a current so powerful that they were compelled to divide their tow before they could get through.....We also take the following from the same paper. Capt. Jno. Woodburn passed through the city yesterday, en route from Little Rock to Pittsburgh where he will contract for several steamers for the Memphis and Arkansas River trade.

—A negro who shipped at Louisville on the Argosy, but whose name is unknown, was lost overboard on Wednesday night, at the foot of Eighteenmile Island.

—The Paducah Herald says Capt. Tom Harman, the "enthusiastically popular," will retire from the command of the Tyrone, and go into the circus business.

—Capt. J. V. Throop proposes building a new boat for the "Romeo."

—The St. Louis Democrat says: The contemplated union of the Thompson Dean and perhaps the Republic, with the barge line, has been deferred for the present, and no definite arrangement has been entered into for such union. There may be arrangements made with other steamers.

—It is thonght that a rise of eighteen inches will relieve the Silver Moon from her unpleasant position on the falls.

—The towboat Chas. Bowen has gone from Nashville to St. Louis, where she has engagements for 1,000 tons of iron ore for Pittsburgh.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 86.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 47¼f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 138⅛@139¼.

THE re-nomination by acclamation of Maj. J. H. DENNISTON, as County Treasurer, was a merited tribute to a worthy and efficient officer and soldier.

THE nomination of Mr. THOMAS H. HUNTER for Recorder, was well made. He served with credit in the army, and has the ability to make a good and reliable officer. He is at present an appreciated accountant in the Allegheny National Bank.

MR. THOMAS HOWARD, for the Senate, is a nomination which meets with the hearty approval and endorsement of all Republicans. He is an able lawyer and an honest, upright gentleman, who will reflect, in the State Assembly, large credit to his constituents.

MR. HILANDS, Clerk of the Orphans' Court, and Mr. GRAY, Register, were both complimented with renomination yesterday. They have discharged their duties well and faithfully and were entitled to the mark of favor and appreciation shown them.

MR. H. S. FLEMING, the Republican candidate for Sheriff, is a great addition to the ticket. He is everywhere known and respected throughout the county, and will bring with him into the office a large practical business experience that will ensure the proper discharge of its duties.

THE distribution of the candidates for the Legislature was well made yesterday by the Legislative Convention. Messrs. WALTON and WHITE represent Allegheny or the North side, Mr. HUMPHREYS the South side, Mr. MILLAR the rural districts and Messrs. TAYLOR and KERR the city.

THE delegates from this county to the State Gubernatorial Convention which meets at Philadelphia on the 29th inst., were instructed by the Judicial Convention selecting them to support JOHN W. GEARY for a second term of office. There was no mistaking the tone of the Convention in favor of that gentleman.

MR. CHAUNCY B. BOSTWICK, who defeated Mr. JOSEPH DILWORTH for County Commissioner, yesterday, does not propose to run the office free of cost to the county, but, having no broad axe to grind while in it, will so conduct its affairs as to merit the approval of all good citizens. He is not rich enough to forfeit the salary, yet is too rich to be dishonest.

THE Commercial will hardly bolt, as threatened, from the ticket nominated yesterday, as it developed its true strength in the several conventions, not gaining a single point. A powerful lesson was taught its conductors, and we shall not be much surprised if they do not take in sail and shout as loud as the loudest for the ticket to-day. Such is the only course left them to pursue if they would retrieve their lost influence, which never was worth speaking about, but we hardly think they have the wisdom to swallow the bitter pill and fall into the ranks to do penance for their sins. We shall see, what we shall see.

ENDORSEMENT.

The several Republican Conventions of Allegheny county met yesterday and placed in nomination the very excellen ticket which finds welcome place at the head of our columns this morning. The proceedings of the different bodies were marked with dignity and decorum, the only departure being elsewhere noticed, and, taken altogether, the delegates represented their constituents well and faithfully. No citizen having the welfare of the county at heart can justly complain that unfair or dishonest practices were resorted to in any manner to advance the interests of any gentleman over those of a rival. The delegates seemed deeply impressed with the importance of selecting the very best material offered and used the utmost care and caution in framing the ticket. Indeed, the candidates presented for nomination were generally of a much higher order than usual, and a very bad or injudicious selection from among them would have been difficult to make.

We are prepared to lend cordial and hearty support to every gentleman on the ticket, thinking each to eminently merit the suffrages of all Republicans, and to be amply well qualified for the proper discharge of the duties of the position for which nominated. The resolutions adopted we believe fully embody the sentiments entertained by every good citizen in the county, and form a platform on which the party can safely rest in the important political canvass about opening.

A RESOLUTION—AND WHAT CAME OF IT.

In two of the three Conventions yesterday, a resolution was regularly reported from the Joint Committee on Resolutions, which had been sanctioned by a majority of that Committee, and which, as adopted by the County Convention, is numbered the twelfth in the series. The tenor of this resolution expresses, in behalf of our Republican fellow-citizens, their approval of one of the soundest principles of law, common to all English-speaking people, to wit: that no man accused of misconduct shall be held to be guilty without adequate proof. In effect this resolution acquits certain citizens, who have held office at the hands of our people, of the wild, vague, sweeping imputations, altogether unsupported by proof, which have of late been presented by an unscrupulous journal of this city. But nevertheless, the equity and manly candor of this express reiteration, of a legal principle which has had the consenting approval of civilization for many centuries, must, no matter when and how it presently applies, commends itself to enlightened and just men, and to all men who like fair play.

If, incidentally, the resolution were also a condemnation of unjustifiable assaults not only upon personal reputations, but, as well, upon the intelligence and integrity of the entire Republican party of this county, that was not the fault of the clear principle which it enunciated; the pinch would be rather with the slanderous malignity which has stumbled under its application. The principle is right, hit whom it may, and, very obviously, only they will complain whom it hits. The resolution presents a simple truism; it names no names, it embodies no specifications, it neither assails nor defends any person or party, in its literal terms. Not a delegate in either of those Conventions could deny its abstract justice.

The County Convention adopted tha resolution with a ringing and unanimous aye; the Judicial Convention omitted it from the series, adopting all the rest, and the Legislative Convention were not permitted to take any vote upon it whatever. The action of the first named body will meet the hearty approval of every Republican who is honest at heart and man enough to say what he thinks. The second Convention declined to endorse it by a feeble vote, at the close of a long and interesting discussion of which we give a faithful report, showing which of the delegates actively opposed this fair and temperate expression of Republican sentiment—and why. It will be seen that District Attorney Carnahan,—the only dying bequest of Andrew Johnson in whom the Republicans of Western Pennsylvania may still behold reflected the principles of the late Federal Administration,—recognized the fitness with which the terms of the resolution might be applicable to his always favorite newspaper in this city, and hastened at once to its defence, with the same alacrity which has ever marked his friendship, as well as with the peculiar adroitness which his professional experience and the criminal law has often made serviceable to an endangered client. On this point, we have no regrets to express; we can only confess our surprise that a Republican Convention in Allegheny county should have allowed itself to be betrayed into a glaringly false position by such an unsafe leader. Their grave mistake is in part to be explained by the fact that A. J.'s official friend talked against time and until everybody was wearied out. But when Mr. R. B. Carnahan so far forgot the proprieties of the situation, of parliamentary law, of the committee-room, and of the well-bred gentleman, as to state that the resolution has written by the editor of the GAZETTE, it was left to us only the duty of regretting that he did not state the whole truth. If, instead of invidiously singling out the one resolution as the work of that writer, he had stated that the entire series were prepared by the same hand, he would certainly have been more truthful, even if he had damaged his case. The law, with which he is familiar, holds that the suppression of a part of the truth is equivalent to the assertion of a falsehood. We leave the application of the maxim, to his juridical mind, and to the opinion of his and our fellow-citizens.

The third Convention were not permitted to take any action upon the resolution. Its sub-committee, of three members appointed to join similar committees from the other bodies, to constitute a Joint Committee on Resolutions for all, consisted of Messrs. Thomas Steel, John E. Parke and James A. Taylor. The two latter attended the joint meeting and approved the resolntion, voting with the majority for its adoption. They handed the joint report to their sub-chairman, Mr. Steel, who read it attentively and said to them that he did not like to report it, adding some considerations upon party policy as he understood it. Judge PARKE and Mr. TAYLOR remonstrated with him, dwelling upon the fact that the whole series was adopted by the authorized Committee, that they individually supported this resolution, and that he had no option but to submit it to the Convention. Mr. STEEL, nevertheless, saw fit to take upon himself the right of revising the work of a Committee which he had not found it worth his while to attend, overriding the judgment and instructions of his two colleagues, either one of whom is quite his equal in personal privilege, intelligence, probity and the public respect, and smothered the resolution by putting it in his pocket and keeping it there. Evidently, he felt that he could not trust the judgment of the Convention, any more than of his colleagues, upon the plain maxim of justice, and the vindication of Republican integrity which the resolution embodies. He submitted the other resolutions, wholly suppressing this, which, for reasons, did not meet his approbation. His colleagues had no suitable opportunity for presenting it afterwards, and it remained, smothered by Mr. STEELY. They were indignant at his treatment of them personally and of the trust confided to him and them by the Convention. Subsequently, they authorized a delegate to offer the resolutions with a full statement of these facts, but it was then too late, the Convention almost at the same moment adjourning. Nor is this all of a needful explanation. Mr. STEELE was a delegate from the Second ward. He was avowedly friendly to a particular candidate for the Senate. That resolution would have done to his friend but a simple justice. Before the Convention closed, he was made aware that its suppression was regarded as among other things an intentional betrayal of that friend. And he was left wholly without even the shadow of a defence against this exposure, the facts of which are stated upon authority. Mr. STEELE has thus made a grave mistake. He has assumed quite too much of authority, with his equals on the Committee, and with the Convention which gave to him no such powers. They will know how much to confide to him hereafter. And so will the candidate who trusted fatally to his friendship. Did it require that abuse of a high trust, or that betrayal of a friend, to feed fat his ancient grudge against another?

POLITICS are necessarily cruel. Many disappointments are in store for those who enter the arena, and the adept in the science acquires, as his first and most useful lesson, the art of receiving defeat philosophically and with good humor. Yesterday before the Conventions assembled there were many gentlemen who entered the lists for nominations with full hope and rosy expectation, but who, in the end, retired with the one crushed and the other set to rest in the reality of a reverse. To their credit, however, be it said, that, without exception, they gracefully accepted the situation and acknowledging the will of the majority, unhesitatingly endorsed the nominees and promised to work diligently to accomplish their election.

THE nominations of Hon. J. M. KIRKPATRICK and Gen. FRED H. COLLIER for Judicial seats by the Convention yesterday, is universally received with favor by Republicans. These gentlemen are eminent in the legal profession, and besides are citizens who combine all the elements of character to make them popular with the masses. On this branch of our ticket, as much as any other, we have strength in the men, as well as in the principles to which they are so devotedly attached.

THE County ticket is one of the strongest ever put forward for the suffrages of the people in this county. There is not a bad or weak name upon it. With such material in the field bolting will prove decidedly unpopular. The Convention making the nominations used excellent judgment and discrimination, and we are glad that their action has completely refuted the unwarranted charge that bad men always secure places on the county ticket through the efforts of "rings and cliques."

COL. JOSEPH BROWNE, the gallant soldier who was nominated for Clerk of the Courts, yesterday, over an equally worthy competitor, is confined to his bed from sickness contracted in the army. His nomination was fresh evidence that the great Republican party does not propose to ignore the claim of the gallant soldiers who fought our battles, but is prepared to award them that full recognition due their services.

THE Legislative ticket nominated by the Republican Convention is one of the strongest that could be made. Messrs. HUMPHREYS and TAYLOR, of the last Legislature, were renominated, while all the remaining candidates are new men—not new in experience, however. No Republican can bolt the ticket or scratch a name from it, if he is desirous of being fully, fairly and honestly represented at Harrisburg.

IF THE College of the Apostles, or the Angel Gabriel, with his golden trumpet, offered for Coroner or any other of the offices on the Democratic ticket in the banner county, the Republicans would not vote for them.—Post.

Not a supposable case! The opposition always look for their candidates in precisely the opposite direction.

Mr. Marshall, on taking the chair, stated that the position of Chairman of the Convention was one of neither honor or novelty to him, and that he had not sought it, but having been elected to it, would discharge the duties faithfully and to the best of his ability. The Secretary then announced that the districts were all represented and that there were contests in four as follows: the Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fifteenth wards, Pittsburgh.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

The Chairman stated that the next business before the Convention was the permanent organization.

On motion, the temporary officers were unanimously elected permanent officers of the Convention.

COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS.

Mr. Geyer moved that the Chair appoint a committee of five on credentials and contested seats.

The motion was adopted and the following gentlemen appointed the committee: Messrs. Geyer, Dilworth, Coffin, Coats and Watson.

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

The Chairman stated that as there were three Conventions in session and it was desirous to have a harmonious expression of feeling, a Joint Committee of three from each Convention should be appointed to prepare resolutions for their consideration.

On motion of Mr. Long, the Chairman was authorized to appoint the Committee, when the following gentlemen were appointed: R. M. Long, G. H. Tower and Thos. Bigelow.

The Chairman here stated that it was the usual custom of the Conventions to take a recess at this stage of the proceedings, in order to allow the delegates entitled to the contested seats a voice in all the proceedings of the Convention.

THE NOMINATIONS.

A delegate moved that previous to taking a recess the Convention proceed to place in nomination candidates for the several offices to be voted for by the Convention, in order that their names might be printed on slips ready for marking.

The motion was adopted, when the following named gentlemen were placed in nomination:

On motion the nominations closed, and the names were ordered to be printed as read by the Secretary.

Mr. Geyer moved that the nominations be made by marking. Adopted.

A delegate moved that Major J. F. Denniston be nominated by acclamation, as there was no opposition.

The Chairman ruled the motion out of order, and stated unless the Convention decided otherwise, no nominations could be made until after the Committe on Contested Seats had reported.

On motion the Convention then took a recess until one o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention met at one o'clock, and was called to order by the Chairman.

Mr. Aiken stated that as there was no opposition for the office of County Treasurer, he moved that the nomination of Major J. F. Denniston be made unanimous by acclamation. The motion was adopted.

WITHDRAWALS.

The Chairman announced that he was authorized to withdraw the name of Frank Duff as a candidate for Sheriff, and if there were any others who desired to retire from the warm contest they now had an opportunity of doing so.

Mr. Ramaley stated that he was authorized to withdraw the name of W. G. Stubbs as a candidate for Sheriff.

Mr. Hoffman withdrew the name of Henry Eaton as a candidate for Sheriff.

Mr. Patterson announced that he was authorized to withdraw the name of B. A. Sampson as a candidate for Recorder.

DIRECTOR OF THE POOR NOMINATED.

On motion, there being but one candidate for the office of Director of the Poor for the county, Mr. Abdiel McClure was unanimously nominated by acclamation.

THE BALLOTING.

The Chairman requested that the delegates would leave the Secretaries' desks, as the Convention was now ready to proceed to balloting, and hoped that all persons not delegates would retire from inside the bar.

FIRST BALLOT.

The balloting commenced at half past one o'clock, and was continued uninterruptedly until a few minutes past three, when it was announced by the Chairman, who stated that he had not yet seen the tally list, but was informed that some of his candidates were defeated. He would submit cheerfully to the will of the majority, and hoped all would do so. He then announced the vote, which was as follows:

SECOND BALLOT.

There having been no choice for the office of County Commissioner, a second ballot was ordered, and after the marking had proceeded for several minutes, the names of Robert Cunningham and William Bailey were withdrawn. The vote was as follows:

Bostwick	96	Hamilton	24
Dilworth	62	Irwin	24

Neither candidates having received a majority of all the votes cast, the Chairman announced that no choice had been made and asked if it was not the will of the Convention to proceed to another ballot.

Some little confusion ensued, after which Mr. C. B. Bostwick was nominated by acclamation.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Long, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, submitted their report, identical with that submitted in the Judical Convention, which was read by Secretary Stewart and unanimously adopted.

On motion of Mr. Stewart the thanks of the Convention were tendered to Mr. Marshall, Chairman of the Convention, for the able manner in which he had discharged his duties.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

THAT "Wonderful Physical Medium," named Read, who has been giving seances in Springfield and other places, going through remarkable performances with ropes, etc., wasn't sharp enough to deceive the Yankees in Connecticut. Several citizens of Waterbury who went to his exhibition put some printer's ink upon the ropes, and afterwards discovered that none of it had been rubbed off on Read's hands. It had been noticed that Read always called for a coat from one of the Committee, prior to placing the same on his arm through one sleeve. Mr. Merriam took off his coat and placed it on the chair beside the "medium." The gas was again turned down. Had the audience had the power of seeing in darkness they would have witnessed the following actions. Immediately on the room being darkened Mr. Huxley with his cloth slippers started for the platform; Mr. Munson rose, turned on the gas over his head and stood ready with sandpaper and match, while the two remaining members of the detective force shuffled their feet over the floor to drown any contraband noises. A moment after a voice called "Light," the gas flashed over Munson's head, the "committee" sprang upon the platform, and there was the "Wonderful Physical Medium" with the coat on his arm trying to work his hand back into the rope. As soon as he called for light Huxley seized him by the arm, and although he cried at the top of his voice "No light! no light!" and worked with the energy of desperation to get his hand through the rope, he was overpowered and held in statu quo. He had succeeded in inserting his fingers in the rope, but his thumb and hand were still outside. The result was Read's arrest and incarceration in the lock-up, to answer the charge of swindling and obtaining money under false pretences.

MECHANICAL MEDICAL APPLIANCES.

There are certain phases of disease, and certain diseased conditions of the human system, which proceed from displacement and mal-position of some of the various organs of the human body. These are not remediable by the usual and ordinary methods used for the cure of other ailments; but require some mechanical stay or support to maintain the parts in position until they are healed. Prominent among these may be classed a displacement called hernia, or rupture, which is a protrusion of part of the bowel, and which must be returned and kept to its place by some outward support which should be properly adjusted in order to secure immunity from inconvenience and danger. The prevalence of this condition is now very common and should be attended to immediately on its appearance, not only because of the present inconvenience which its produces, but also in consequence of the usual danger of strangulation which is rarely remedied but by a surgical operation.

Varicose veins in the legs and varicocele are other forms of structural changes which need immediate and scientific outward support, in order to afford relief or effect a cure. Each of these conditions are now as much within the pale of successful treatment as any of the other diseases to which mankind are liable.

Stooped shoulders may be cured at once by the use of my Shoulder Braces, which not only maintain the body in an erect position, but at the same time enlarge its capacity, and allow free and full expansion to the lungs, always a necessary condition to a healthy and perfect use of the pulmonary organs.

There are hundreds of females who would find great benefit from wearing these shoulder braces as they are so constructed as to take all the dragging weight from the back or spine and suspend the clothing from the shoulders. Those who use my shoulder braces need not wear suspenders, as they answer the double purpose of shoulder brace and suspenders: in fact they are the best suspenders ever invented. Sold and applied at

THE VITAL STATISTICS OF THE UNITED STATES

Show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the stomach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, as regards diet; the use of pernicious stimulants: and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly opened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria, unwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.

NOW, IT IS A FACT that that it is as possible to protect the human system against these maladies as to guard life and property against the incursions of assassins and thieves. Strengthen the vital organization with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and it becomes as capable of resisting the active principle of epidemic or endemic disease, as a fire-proof safe is of resisting the action of combustion. This is the experience of thousands who have remained unscathed by malarious disorders in the sickliest seasons, while their neighbors, who neglected to tone and regulate their systems with this unequaled medicinal stimulant, have fallen thick and fast around them. Weakness invites disease. Vigor repels it. Help nature to fight the good fight with infection, whether it be in the air, in the water, or the soil with this matchless preparation—a compound of the rarest vegetable extracts with the purest of all diffusive stimulants.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 1, 1869.

The money market was rather more active late in the day but easy at 6@7 on call. Sterling quiet at 9⅛@9⅜. Gold higher, opened at 138¾, rose to 139⅛, and closed at 131⅛@139¼; the rise occasioned by an attempt to cover recent heavy Bear sales. Carrying rates 5@8 per cent. Clearances, $98,000,000.

Governments were strong and advancing during the the morning, with chief dealing in '62s, '67s, old '62s and '81s. There was an active inquiry for the latter by foreign bankers. In the evening the market was dull and a fraction lower than the best rates of the day. Coupons '81, 122¾; do. '62, 122⅜@122½; do. '64, 117¼@117⅝; do. '65, 118¾@119; do. new, 120@120¼; do. '67, 120@120¼ do. '68, 120@120¼; 10-40s, 109⅜@109½; Pacifics, 107¾@107¼.

State Bonds firm; Missouris, 89@89¼; Old Tennessees, 68@68½; New do., 64⅞@69; New North Carolinas, 55¾@56¼; New Virginias, 61½@62; La. Levee Sixes, 67¾.

The stock market during the morning was feverish, but in the main strong. Michigan Southern, Pittsburgh, St. Paul and New York Central were the features. Southern fluctuated between 117¼ and 119⅜; Central between 89½ and 91¾; St. Paul common between 78⅞ 79¾; and preferred between 90⅝@91⅝; Pittsburgh between 104¾ and 108½. The immediate future of the market depends on the action of the Vanderbilt party, the active members of which are in Cleveland to attend the Michigan Southern election. In the afternoon the market was alternately weak and firm. A report first said Horace T. Clark had been made President of the consolidated Michigan Southern and Lake Shore roads, and Legrand Lockwood Treasurer. The next report was that the arrangement was not satisfactory to either party, upon which free sales were made of Michigan Southern, followed immediately by as equally vigorous buying. There was a sudden rise in St. Joe preferred from 120 to 121, it being stated the Company has assets of $5,135,000 applicable to the redemption of Land Bonds and 8 and 10 per cent. loan and other bonds, and that such disposition was to be made of assets and a dividend declared of 10 per cent. cash and 50 per cent. stock. The market at the close was not up to the highest point of the day.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 1, 1869.

The oil market was somewhat stronger to day, both Crude and Refined, and compared with yesterday prices are a shade higher. The feeling begins to prevail that prices have touched bottom, for the present at least, and as a consequence, buyers generally, are more disposed to take hold than they have been for some days past though not inclined to pay much of an advance. There are those, however, who contend that the present reaction will only be temporary, and that with an increased production reported, the advance will soon be lost, and that prices will go lower, than they have yet been. Be this as it may, there is no getting over the fact that there was a stronger feeling manifested to-day, and that prices were realized that could not have been obtained yesterday. In regard to the future, operators vary materially in their views and feelings; those who are interested in big prices, feel a little better, than they have done for several days past, the turn in the market to-day, having afforded them considerable encouragement.

CRUDE.

There was a fair volume of business in Crude to-day, the sales aggregating 15,000 bbls, while, as already intimated, prices, compared with yesterday, ruled a shade higher. Sales of 3,000 each, July, August and September at 14; 1,000 June, at 12½; 1,000 July, at 13¼; and 1,000 August, at 13½; and 3,000 seller June, at $4,90, on cars at Venango City. It was rumored that there had been considerable June sold at a fraction below 12½, but for the correctness of this we cannot vouch.

REFINED.

The market was firmer and prices a shade higher, though there was but one sale reported: 1,000 July, at 30½. June, either first or last half, was quoted at 29½, and the late months were also reported better.

Ralph Waldo Emerson on Woman's Suffrage.

The Boston Post gives the subjoined report of Mr. Ralph Waldo Emerson's remarks at the anniversary meeting of the New England Women's Suffrage Association in that city on Wednesday:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It seems unnecessary to add any words to the statements and arguments which you have already heard, and I certainly shall do but little more than to express my sympathy and my delight in the rightfulness of this movement—the rightness of this action as it is shown by the discourses which I have just listened to. There seems little to do, and it ought directly to be put to vote. I think that the action of this Society, the sentiment of this assembly, is by no means a whim; but is an humanized policy—slow, culminative and reaching a greater height of health and strength than hitherto. I think we all feel the necessity of the admission into our colleges of the two partners in the activity of this world. We look upon the man as the representative of intellect and the woman as the representative of affection; but each shares the characteristic of the other, only in the man one predominates and in the woman the other. We know woman as affectionate, as religious, order, possessed of taste. In all ages woman as oracular as delighting in grace and has been the representative of religion. In all countries it is the women who fill the temples. In every religious movement the woman has been an active and powerful part, not only in those in the most civilized, but in the most uncivilized countries; not less in the Mohommedan than the Greek and Roman religions. She holds man to religion. There is no man so reprobate, so careless of religious duty, but what delights to have his wife a saint. All men feel the advantages that abound of that quality in a woman. I think it was her instinct in the dark superstition of the Middle Ages which tempered the hardness of the theology by making the Virgin Mary the mother of God, the intercessor to whom all prayers were directed. My own feeling is that in all ages woman has held substantially the same influence. I think that superior women are rare as superior men are rare. I think that women feel when they are in the press as men of genius are said to do among energetic workers—that they see through all these efforts with finer eyes than their noisy masters. I think that all men in the presence of the best women feel overlooked and judged and sometimes sentenced. They are the educators in all our society. Though their sympathy and quickness they are the proper mediators between those who have knowledge and those who want it; but what I would say is, that in this movement an important part of the history of woman is the history of the Quakers, and then of the Shakers, who gave an equal part of their power to the eldress and elder, and so made active and instructed workmen and workwomen in social and public affairs. When the great enterprise of recent civilization, the putting down of slavery—of that institution, so called—was done, it was done, as you know, in this country, by a society whose Executive Committee was composed of men and women, and every step was taken by both. So they hung together till success was achieved. This was getting instruction of our sisters in the direction and control of important affairs, and now, at the moment when we are agitating the question of how to save society from the threatened mischief of the invasion of the purity of the ballot, by corrupt and purchased votes, and thus stultifying the will of the honest community—now, at this moment, woman asks for her vote. If the vote is to be granted to women, and certainly it must be, then we must arrange to have the voting clean and honest and polite. The State must build houses, instead of dirty rooms and corner shops; the State must build palaces and halls in which women can deposit their vote in the presence of their sons and brothers and fathers. The effect of that reform upon the general voting of the State all can feel. But it isn't for me at this time, after what you have heard, to detain you longer. I only feel the gladness with which such representations as you have heard, such arguments as you have heard, inspire me. It is certain that what is not given to-day will be given to-morrow, and what is asked for this year will be given in the next year; if not in the next year, then in the next lustrum. The claim now pressed by women is a claim for nothing less than all. She asks for her property; she asks for her rights, for her vote; she asks for her share in education, for her share in the institutions of society, for her half of the whole world; and to this she is entitled.

MISS DELINDA LOUISA COOK, a Maine girl of eighteen, who recently poisoned herself in San Francisco, owed her death to an ignorance of the qualities of arsenic. She was a robust and handsome girl, but afflicted with a ruddiness of countenance, not in accordance with her ideas of beauty. Having heard that arsenic would improve the complexion, she bought a couple of ounces of poison at the druggist's and when at home took a teaspoonful of it. In the afternoon she was taken suddenly ill. When questioned, she stated that she had taken the mineral. When informed that she had taken a large dose of deadly poison, and that her life could probably not be saved, she was greatly astonished, and intense mental anguish was added to her already physical suffering. Every possible effort was made by the physicians in attendance to save the life of the sufferer, but she died in a few hours. The coroner's jury found a verdict that she came to her death "by having taken a dose of arsenic for the purpose of beautifying her complexion."

A ROMANCE of the Chicot Noir crevasse is told in the New Orleans papers. The belle of a neighboring country-seat on the banks of the river was assiduously courted by two eligible young gentlemen, to one of whom she gave her heart, but to the other her parents insisted upon giving her hand. She vainly remonstrated, but the day was fixed, the party assembled, and the unfortunate girl, in a bewildered and half-unconscious state, compelled to "stand up" for the ceremony. Just as the clergyman approached that part of the service which required her assent, there came a roar and a crash. The river had burst its banks close to the house. The guests fled in terror, the bride fainted before she had said "I will," and the rejected suitor, rushing in carried her off, and before night had her safely married. The other, who had promised on his part to love and cherish, without receiving the reciprocal pledge, thinks of prosecution.

The Pacific Railroad "Corner.

The manner in which the laborers on the Union Pacific Railroad got their pay recently by capturing and cornering a Director, is thus related by a correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin, writing from Summit Promontory, 10 inst:

It appears that the Directors' car, with the party named, arrived at Piedmont from Wasatch, on Thursday forenoon. Five hundred men gathered around clamoring for money. As the train was about to leave, four men, armed, but not showing weapons, told the conductor they did not want that car to go on. The conductor took no notice, and the train moved on. The four men then loosed the pin and the car was detached, conductor moved back to connect again, when four pistol barrels induced him to change his mind, and leave Durant and others to their fate. The men politely asked Cash and wife and others not to be concerned, and to step out; but they kept Durant and Dillon, and were disappointed to find that Duff had staid at Wasatch. They informed Durant he could not go until they were paid. Durant said: "All right; the money is coming." He said he was only going to look at a bridge a few miles east, and would be back to-morrow; by that time the money would arrive. The men did not see it, and told Durant they thought he had better stay, and that he might not get there. They would put him on the side track; also, to prevent his car rolling, they would chain the wheels to the rails.

In the meantime they took possession of the telegraph office, and allowed no messages but those regarding finances to go, employing their own operator. Davies, the lawyer of the company, agreed with the men, but one of them interrupted him, and thought on this occasion that the chairman of the delegates should do the talking, whereupon an Irish grader talked Tipperary law to them for two hours, complimenting Davies on his legal ability, but he must come to the Rocky Mountains to learn law.

Durant was very cool. He had intended to stay a few days at Piedmont as he came back. There was some good fishing in the mountain stream known as "the Muddy," and he would go there. His grading friends consented, but thought it would help his sport if he had four or five men with muskets to accompany him. Durant thought so much company would prevent him from getting a bite, so he dropped that idea.

Next it became known that 300 troops were coming through, and there was talk of communicating with them. His custodians told him they were sorry to incommode him by taking him out of his comfortable car, but their wagons were hitched and they would have to take him to the woods for a few days. Durant seeing strategem failed, submitted to his persecutors with a good grace, and on Saturday morning, after forty-eight hours detention, he was liberated on paying the men and contractors $253,000. Some of his fellow travelers, who, though of course denouncing such outrages, had collected several thousand dollars which they hardly expected to get for months, had their jokes about Durant going fishing in "the Muddy." These were more frequent than pleasant to Durant's ears. Durant has had enough of the Rocky Mountain way of collecting debts; $60,000 were paid to the Promontory men.

Monument to Washington and Lafayette —Dedication Ceremonies.

The managers of the Monument Cemetery, Philadelphia, have had a beautiful monument, over 100 feet high, erected in their cemetery, to the memory of Washington and Lafayette, and on Saturday it was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies in the presence of a large number of persons. The monument is obelisk in form, resting upon a pedestal. The surface measurement of the pedestal is a fraction less than 77½ square yards, and is intended to indicate the 77 years and five months of Lafayette's life. Immediately above the pedestal are thirteen steps or stages, representing the original number of States in the Union; above these, ornamenting the sub-shaft, are 32 vertical grooves, 8 on each of the four sides, representing the number of States composing the Union during the erection of the monument. From the top of the pedestal to the apex of the monument is 67 feet 10 inches, corresponding with the years and months of Washington's life; the obelisk shaft, (a copy of Cleopatra's needle), is 56 feet high, the number of signers of the Declaration of Independence. Two large bronze tablets, one on the north and the other on the south face of the pedestal, bear the following inscriptions in raised letters, surrounding a medallion likeness of the one to whom the eulogy applies. On the southern face is the following:

"Washington—first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

"As a warrior, he served, refusing pay, and led in the achievement of our independence."

"As a statesman and lawgiver, his guiding wisdom assisted in framing the constitutional law. As first President of the United States, he governed with firmness and moderation."

"As a patriot, he bequeathed his bright example and earnest counsel an immortal legacy to his country."

"As a man, his character stood superior in its grand equipoise of noblest qualities."

"Modest as great, prudent as wise. He gave the best years of his life to the public weal, and died in voluntary retirement."

"The brightest star in the constellation of the great men of all time."

That devoted to Lafayette, is as follows:

"Benefactor of two hemispheres, born a noble of France."

"He served as a citizen soldier of American liberty, cherished friend of Washington, by whose side he fought and bled in defence of the great principle that the only legitimate government is that which derives its authority from the governed. A patriot, fearless and firm in days of terror; a man of unchanging integrity under changing dynasties. The constant supporter of constitutional freedom. Like Washington, he died in voluntary retirement, leaving a name that belongs to history, the lesson of his life to future generations, his most revered memory to every American."—Ledger.

THE Association of the Army and Navy Union Prisoners, of Washington, have adopted resolutions that immediate measures be taken by the association toward the building of a grand national monument to the memory of the 35,000 prisoners who died in Southern prisons. Committees were appointed to carry out these intentions, and it was also resolved to petition Congress for the grant of a public square on Pennsylvania avenue, in which to erect the proposed monument.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.
To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.
To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.
Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.
The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.
Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.
If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the liver will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.
When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.
Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 25 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1 50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:51-d&F

On motion of Maj. J. F. Slagle, a committeee was appointed on contested seats from the Tenth ward. Messrs. J. E. McKelvy, Charles Jeremy, Frederick Riddle, J. P. Brown and J. H. McElroy were appointed the committee. Mr. Slagle declined acting as a member of the committee.

While the Committee was deliberating, Mr. R. H. Davis moved that Major A. M. Brown be selected as permanent chairman.

C. W. Robb, Esq., nominated W. C. Moreland, Esq. for Chairman.

Mr. Moreland, in a graceful speech, declined, preferring that entire harmony should prevail in the Convention.

Whereupon Major Brown was unanimously chosen chairman, and having been conducted to the stage by Mr. Moreland, and formally introduced, returned thanks for the honor conferred and made a few eloquent remarks.

F. C. Negley, Esq., moved that two tables be procured and that four Tellers be appointed for each, to superintend the marking for candidates.

Mr. Slagle moved to amend by designating the Secretaries as Tellers, Adopted.

On motion, three tables were ordered to be procured, one for the city delegates, one for those from the boroughs, and another for those from the country districts.

H. C. Mackrell, Esq., moved that J. W. Over be an additional Secretary. Carried.

The following Vice Presidents were selected: G. M. Morrison, John Adams, Birmingham, Joseph Dilworth, J. S. Robb, Russell Errett, J. G. Penny, R. C. Gray and T. W. Shaw.

Hon. Russell Errett moved the appointment of a Joint Committee of three on Resolutions, to meet with similar committees from the Legislative and County Conventions. Carried, and Messrs. Errett, R. B. Carnahan and W. C. Moreland appointed as the Committee.

Mr. Moreland declined serving on the Committee, and Mr. Joseph Dilworth was substituted.

C. W. Robb, Esq., nominated Hon. John M. Kirkpatrick for Assistant Law Judge of the District Court, and moved the nomination be adopted by acclamation. Carried.

W. C. Moreland, Esq., nominated Gen. F. H. Collier for Associate Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, &c.

Capt. C. W. Batchelor named W. B. Negley, Esq., for the same position.

Mr. Moreland moved that the delegates vote viva voce. Carried.

The vote proceeded, the delegates responding "Collier" or "Negley," as their names were called.

The voting having been concluded, was about being announced, when Mr. F. C. Negley moved that the nomination of Gen. F. H. Collier be made unanimous.

[The vote stood, Collier, one hundred and eighty-one; Negley, twenty-one.]

The Committee on Contested Seats reported through their Chairman, Mr. J. E. McKelvy, that Joseph French and David Wilson were entitled to seats from the Tenth ward, Pittsburgh.

Mr. F. C. Negley said he was pretty well acquainted with the facts of the case, and believed Dr. H. Manchester and W. H. H. Rutledge were entitled to seats, and made a motion to that effect.

Mr. Slagle thought it at least due to the Committee to receive their report.

The report was received.

Mr. Negley renewed his motion.

C. W. Robb moved as a substitute that the report of the Committee be adopted. Carried.

Nominations for delegates to the State Convention were next in order, and some forty names having been suggested, the Convention, at half past twelve, adjourned for one hour.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention re-assembled at a quarter past two o'clock, delay having been occasioned in the preparation of printed lists of delegates.

Before the voting commenced, Mr. F. M. Edmundson, moved that the delegates chosen to the State Convention be instructed to vote for Gen. Geary for Governor.

Mr. J. S. Robb opposed the resolution, and hoped it would not be insisted on. While not opposed to Gen. Geary, he desired the delegates to go uninstructed, in order that nothing might be thrown in the way of Judge Williams as a candidate for the Supreme Bench.

Major J. F. Slagle thought the resolution impolitic and hoped it would be withdrawn. He, too, was not unfavorable to Gen. Geary, but did not wish to interfere with Judge Williams's chances.

Capt. C. W. Batchelor opposed the resolution for a like reason. He came to the Convention a Geary man, but believed it best the delegates should go uninstructed.

The resolution was opposed by Hon. Russell Errett, R. H. Davis and others.

General A. L. Pearson warmly advocated the resolution. There was no other candidate for Supreme Court beside Judge Williams, and his nomination was a foregone conclusion. The majority of the counties in the State had instructed for Gen. Geary, and he could see no reason whatever why Allegheny county could not do likewise, and lead the van in his support. He had been a good Governor, was an excellent soldier, and should be re-elected.

Gen. P.'s remarks elicited marked applause.

The question was taken and the resolution carried.

Hon. Russell Errett desired that his name be stricken off the list of those suggested for delegates. Not believing it politic to instruct the delegates as indicated, he desired to be consistent, and therefore hoped his name would be withdrawn.

W. C. Moreland, Esq., for a like reason, desired his name to be withdrawn.

C. W. Robb, Esq., moved that any other gentlemen whose names were on the list have the privilege of withdrawing them. Not entertained.

A resolution was adopted that those receiving the highest number of votes be declared the delegates, the two highest to be Senatorial and the six next highest to be the Representative.

The marking then proceeded and resulted as follows, those marked with a * being the successful candidates:

SENATORIAL.		Richard Perry	32

Just before the vote was announced, Hon. Russell Errett, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported and read the following:

1st. That the Republican citizens of Allegheny county recognize, with feelings of just pride, the inauguration of sound political principles, and the already decisive illustration of a national policy of wise statesmanship, of pure integrity, of a capable efficiency, and a patriotic devotion to the highest and truest interests of our once more united people, under the Administration of President Grant. They point, with equal satisfaction, to the marked expression of their confidence in the new Chief Magistrate in November last, and to the spotless fidelity with which he has, in his high office, maintained the justice of his title to their regard. They now renew the assurances of their cordial support to his government, in the great domestic work of completing the national pacification, of upholding the national credit, and of developing and protecting the leading national interests, as well as in maintaining abroad the national rights and honor before all the peoples of the world.

2d. That we heartily endorse the Reconstruction policy which has been shaped by Republican Congresses, and which has at last found a faithful Executive, in the head of the present Administration, and we earnestly urge upon the XLIst Congress, the imperative need for such further legislation, in the case of the people of Georgia, as shall systematically perfect the National policy in one harmonious whole, finally healing the last open wound of all those which a causeless rebellion inflicted upon the Republic.

3d. That we welcome the XVth Article, amendatory of the Federal Constitution, as the just and needful acknowledgment of the Equality of Men, as well under human as under Divine laws, in the full possession and unrestricted enjoyment of all natural and political rights, in strict consonance with a truly republican theory of government.

4th. That we recommend to our Senators and Representatives in Congress the abrogation of all the no longer needful restrictions upon the political rights of our chastened and repentant Southern brethren, beholding in this element and wise policy, as we do, an influential step toward the more thorough extinguishment of any still lingering traces of a past unhappy strife.

5th. That we maintain the just claims of every public creditor upon the National Treasury; that we uphold our honorable duty to discharge faithfully the last dollar of the National debt; that we avow our strengthened confidence in its early and convenient liquidation, under the existing legislative provisions therefor; that we demand a strict adherence to that policy of Economical Retrenchment which a Republican Government has successfully inaugurated, and that we protest against any pledge of the public faith, for any new form of indebtedness, direct or indirect, whether by way of treaty with foreign powers or of domestic subsidy to corporate or individual enterprise, as being wholly incompatible with a true Republican policy, or with the proper satisfaction of the existing just demands upon the resources of the American people.

6th. Resolved, That our thanks are due to the national government, in that it has done much to recognize the just rights of American Labor, and that we urge, upon Congress and the Executive, the still unsatisfied but clear claims of American Industry, for an adequate protection against the competition, in our own markets, of the dense and underpaid populations of Europe, and for the fostering care of a government which should be wisely bent upon the broadest development of every material element in the national prosperity.

7th. Resolved, That we testify to the entire satisfaction with which their constituents of Allegheny county have regarded the Congressional course of their Representatives, Hon. James S. Negley and Hon. Darwin E. Phelps; that we recognize their vigilant fidelity to our material and political interests; that we congratulate them upon the success with which they have achieved positions of leading influence in the deliberations of Congress, and that we pledge to them our cordial support in upholding and practically enforcing the principles of a sound public policy.

8th. That we avow the hearty satisfaction with which we have observed the successful administration of the affairs of this Commonwealth by his Excellency John W. Geary, under Republican auspices; that, in the large reduction of the public burthens by the removal of many onerous forms of taxations from the pockets of the people, in the faithful collection of the revenues, in the integrity which has controlled their disbursement in strict accordance with the laws, in the wisdom which has marked our general legislation upon matters of the highest social and public importance, and in the fidelity to high trusts which has been conspicuous in every Executive department of our State Government,—we recognize results not less profitable to the people of Pennsylvania than honorable to the Republican conduct of the public affairs.

9th. That, in behalf of the Republicans of Allegheny county, we present to the Republican State Convention the name of Henry W. Williams, as our unanimous choice for nomination by that body to the Supreme bench of the Commonwealth; that we invite once more their just consideration for those high personal and professional qualifications which secured to him their approval two years since,—which were excluded from the popular election only by the most flagrant frauds upon the ballot,—and which have since been, and continue to be, illustrated by his judicial experience, and confessed by the consenting testimony of the bench, the bar and the people of Pennsylvania.

10th. That we invoke, from all departments of the State government, a rigidly faithful persistence in that policy of Unsparing Retrenchment of all needless expenditures, which is essential to a continued success in the further reduction both of the public obligations and of popular taxation; that we demand from our Senators and Representatives an economy the most strict in all justly avoidable expenditures, not denying the reasonable claims of any rightful dependents upon the charitable regards of the Commonwealth; and that we avow our determination to hold them, and all others, our public servants, to the most searching account, for the constant rectitude and unswerving fidelity of their official conduct.

11th. That the selection of our fellow-citizen, Hon. R. W. Mackey, for the responsible office of State Treasurer, meets the cordial approval of the Republicans of this county. His elevation to this high trust is a deserved tribute to his personal worth and abilities, and a graceful acknowledgment, by our friends throughout the Commonwealth, of the distinguished services of the Republicans of Allegheny county in behalf of their party and principles.

12th. That the Republicans of Allegheny county have neither part nor lot in any vague and indiscriminate impeachment, whether within or outside of their organization, of public servants whose official records stand open to challenge the specific and minute investigation of their constituents, and that we can justly hold no citizen, whether in or out of office, to be guilty of offense against the public interests or the law, until that offense be proved by clear and ample testimony.

13th. That we present the nominees of these Conventions, to our fellow-citizens of Allegheny county, as candidates altogether worthy of their suffrages, pledging ourselves individually, as delegates and as Republican voters, to all legitimate exertions for the election of the ticket this day nominated.

14th. That we do hereby approve of the action of our County Committee, in recommending the modifications this day introduced into the Republican system of effecting nominations for places of public trust, and that we again refer the subject to the Committee, with instructions to consider the propriety of a still further sub-division of the nominating bodies, and with such full powers to that end as according to their judgment may be exercised for the advantage of our political and public interests.

R. B. Carnahan, Esq., stated that the twelfth resolution had not the assent of the majority of the Committee, consisting of himself and Mr. Jos. Dilworth. They had opposed it, for the reason that it cast censure or was an indirect assault upon a newspaper of the county, and they did not think it the business of the Convention either to whitewash public servants or to interfere with newspapers in the exercise of their privilege of criticising the acts of public men. The resolution not having the assent of the majority of the Committee, it was not a proper report, and he did not consider the chairman had any right to introduce it.

Mr. Errett said the report he had made was that of the majority of a Joint Committee of the three Conventions. His motion was for a Joint Committee, and the members of such Committee from this Convention met with Committees from the two other Conventions. The resolutions were approved by the majority of the Joint Committee, and he considered he had no more than discharged his duty in reporting them as he had. As regarded the assault or censure upon a certain newspaper, he challenged the gentleman to show where it was. No newspaper was mentioned. The resolution was nothing more nor less than a recognition of the common law principle that every man shall be considered innocent until proved guilty.

Mr. Carnahan disclaimed any desire to impute an improper motive on the part of the Chairman in introducing the resolution. In point of fact, he said, a majority of the Committee had not sanctioned the 12th resolution. A committee of three was appointed by each Convention, but only one from the County Convention had attended the session. But four out of the seven members present approved of that resolution. The gentleman proceeded at some length in condemnation of the resolution, characterizing its introduction as an unwarranted interference with the prerogatives of the press. If newspapers went too far in their criticisms of the conduct of public officers or citizens, the Courts were open for redress. It was no part of the business of the Convention to interfere. It was the right of the press to criticise public officers, and to say whether or not they honestly or fairly represented their constituents.

Mr. Errett said the resolution had been approved by two-thirds of the Joint Committee, and that was sufficient justification for his presenting it. He protested against the gentleman "ringing in" newspapers, when none were mentioned. The resolution was nothing more, he repeated, than the expression of a well-recognized principle, and it was nothing more than proper that the Convention should express its dissent from the wholesale abuse of members of the party who had labored zealously and faithfully in its behalf. Mr. E. continued at some length in favor of the resolution.

C. W. Robb, Esq., was opposed to the resolution, and in high-flown language depicted the evils certain to flow from such trammeling of the press as was proposed. Farewell, he said, to honesty and good government, if it should come to pass that the press should not be at liberty to criticise public servants. He referred to the Commercial, and said that paper had done noble service in the cause of Republicanism. He paid a high compliment to Mr. Errett, for his course as Senator, and said no member of the Convention or citizen of the county would link his name with corruption in any respect, nor would any one else do so in this community.

Mr. Errett—It has been done by the paper you speak of.

A delegate, sotto voce—Yes, Major, but it took it all back.

Mr. Joseph Dilworth, of the Committee, made a few remarks, begging the Convention not to approve of the resolution, because the Committee had not, and because to do so might injure the Commercial, which was a very influential paper.

Isaac Cohen, Esq., who had been waiting his turn for a speech, now obtained his opportunity. He endorsed all that had been said concerning ex-Senator Errett, whom he held in the highest esteem, endorsed all that had been said by Mr. Carnahan about the rights of the press, but he deprecated the personal character of the discussion, and asked what the Republicans of Allegheny county, in Convention assembled, had to do with these matters, at this time. He would be loth, indeed, to assist in stabbing so valuable a paper as the Commercial had been, and sincerely hoped the resolution would be struck out of the report of the Committee. He apostrophized the freedom of the press, and concluded his remarks by demolishing Napoleon III. for his interference with that glorious right.

Mr. Errett begged the indulgence of the Convention for a word. He asked the opposing gentlemen to point out in what way the resolution proposed to interfere with the liberty of the press. The right of newspapers to criticise the action of public servants was not denied. He had been too long connected with the press to favor interference with its liberty, and when that was proposed he would be found amongst those clamoring the loudest against such innovation.

Maj. Slagle thought the resolution had been entirely misapprehended. It was intended as nothing more than a disapproval of the onslaught made upon the delegation from this county in the last Legislature. With one exception, (who would be nameless) he believed the men sent from this county to Harrisburg, last winter, were honest, and had faithfully discharged their trust. In this belief he thought the resolution not an improper one.

H. C. Mackrell, Esq., favored the resolution, and saw no justification for the "lugging in" of the newspaper question in this discussion. But since the newspapers had been referred to, the Commercial particularly, he said it would be time enough for that paper to talk of corruption when it had cleared its own skirts. It might talk of corruption in the Republican party, but its right to do so, by a Copperhead editor, he denied. [Hisses.] Don't do that, gentlemen, we heard enough of that kind of argument during the late war.

Mr. Carnahan said since it had come to this, he might be permitted to say the resolution in question was written by the editor of the GAZETTE.

Maj. Brown, Chairman of the Convention, called the gentleman to order. The resolution was reported by the Committee, and must be regarded as their production.

Here the discussion ended.

Mr. Carnahan's motion, previously made, that the report of the Committee, with the exception of resolution twelfth, be accepted, was carried.

The report as accepted was then adopted, and the Convention adjourned.

Note.—The eleventh resolution, relative to the State Treasurer, was not reported in the Judicial Convention, but adopted in both the others.

LEGISLATIVE CONVENTION.

CALLED TO ORDER.

The Legislative Convention delegates met in City Hall at eleven o'clock, and were called to order by Dr. A. H. Gross, who read a letter from Hon. Russell Errett, stating that he could not be present as Chairman of the Convention, according to the usual custom, and requesting him (Dr. Gross,) to act as Chairman until a permanent organization was affected.

PERMANENT OFFICERS ELECTED.

On motion of Joseph A. Butler, Esq., Dr. Gross was elected permanent Chairman of the Convention. Upon taking the Chair the gentleman briefly returned thanks for the unsolicited honor, and urged upon the delegates, in the discharge of their important duty, to apply the Jefferson test of honesty to all candidates presented for their support.

A RECESS.

A delegate moved that the Secretaries be instructed to have the names of the candidates printed in alphabetical order, the Convention in the meantime taking a recess until two P. M.

The motion was amended, directing the names to be printed as they occurred on the Secretaries' lists and the Convention to adjourn until half past one o'clock.

After considerable discussion and some confusion, the motion was further amended and carried, requiring the names to be printed alphabetically and the Convention took a recess until half past one o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Re-assembled at the appointed hour.

COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS REPORT.

Mr. Joseph Hartman, from the Committee on Credentials, presented the following report:

GENTLEMEN: The Committee on Credentials respectfully report that Messrs. Friday and McCreary, of the Tenth ward, having been voted for at the regular place of holding elections, and having received a majority of all the votes cast, are entitled to seats in this Convention. Also, that Louis Straub, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, is entitled to a seat instead of Louis Moul.

Mr. Ferguson made a motion for the reading of all the papers handed to the Committee in the contested cases.

Mr. John W. Riddell objected. He thought the Committee was the proper authority to decide upon the matter. If one side was heard by the Convention, then the other in fairness should be similarly treated, and time would be thus uselessly consumed.

A point of order was raised by a delegate that the vote was upon the adoption of the report, and not upon a consideration of who was entitled to the seat.

The Chair decided the point well taken, when the question was put, resulting in the adoption of the report by a large majority.

CHANGE IN DELEGATES.

The Chairman read a communication from John Anderson, delegate from Robinson township, asking that Isaac Walton be substituted in his place and entitled to a seat in the Convention.

On motion, the communication was received and the change agreed to.

A motion was made that the election be next proceeded with by marking, delegates, to vote at the same time for Senate and Assembly candidates. Carried.

The list of the nominees was read over, when the name of James McBriar, of Allegheny, was withdrawn as a candidate for Assembly.

The delegates from the cities then, as their names were called, stepped forward and recorded their vote at a table on the right, while those from the boroughs and townships voted on the left. This arrangement was made to facilitate the business and prevent confusion.

LETTER OF WITHDRAWAL.

While the voting was in progress, the chairman stated he had just received a communication from Hon. George Wilson, which, if it was the pleasure of the Convention would be read.

Mr. Oliver.—Mr. President I object to having the paper read. It's out of order during the progress of the ballot. Such a practice has never been heard of before.

A number of delegates at this juncture crowded around the platform and insisted upon not having the paper read.

Mr. Oliver—Mr. Chairman, I move to lay the paper on the table.

Chairman—Well gentlemen, it's always the privilege of a Convention to decide upon its own business. I'll put the motion and you can decide this case.

The motion was accordingly put by the Chair, and decided in the negative by an almost unanimous vote.

On motion the paper was then read as as follows:

PITTSBURGH, June 1, 1869.

To the Members of the Legislative Convention:

GENTLEMEN: From misrepresentations and unprecedented personal warfare waged upon me, so that many good citizens who were my supporters heretofore, are now in doubt as to their duty in the premises, I decline to submit my name as a candidate for State Senator.

At the same time I pledge my individual support to the Republican party and its nominees, as heretofore.

Respectfully,

GEORGE WILSON.

The communication was accepted and the name of Mr. Wilson thought to be accordingly withdrawn.

WHAT CAME AFTER.

A Delegate—Now, Mr. President, since this withdrawal has been accepted, what is to be done with the votes which have already been cast in favor of Mr. Wilson?

The Chairman—The Convention has decided the matter, and there can be no further discussion upon it.

The balloting then went on, but it was evident from the commotion and excited conversation among a number of the delegates that the result was not satisfactory.

A few minutes after, Mr. Wilson made his appearance outside the temporary railing separating the delegates from the spectators, and was quickly surrounded by the disaffected parties, when an animated discussion ensued, in which "forgery," "never authorized it," &c., were clearly distinguishable.

Col. Allen now rose and said (excitedly): Mr. President, I have just learned that the communication just read is a forgery. Mr. Wilson is here himself, and will explain. I think if corruption has entered this Convention we ought to know it.

Chairman—The communication was handed to me by a delegate and I supposed it was all right.

Mr. Riddell—I move that Mr. Wilson be allowed to speak.

A Delegate—Speeches are out of order in this place. We don't want any explanations or speeches.

(Several voices—"Wilson, Wilson, let him go on.")

Mr. Riddell pressed his motion which was put and decided in the affirmative by a large majority vote.

MR. WILSON'S REMARKS,

Mr. Wilson then came forward to the platform and spoke as follows:

"Mr. President and gentlemen of the Convention: That I dictated that communication I do not deny. But that it was handed in here at the present time with my consent I most emphatically deny. I never intended it to be presented until a certain time. I never intended and did not consent to have it presented on this ballot or at this stage of the proceedings, and the person who handed it in did so without authority from me. I do not recognize the action and still consider myself a candidate. (Applause.) That's all the explanation I have to make."

Mr. Wilson now retired amid much excitement.

WHO OFFERED IT?

Col. Allen—Mr. President, who offered the letter?

Chairman—A delegate named Magee I believe.

Col. Allen—In whose interest?

Chairman—I don't know.

The excitement gradually subsided, when the voting was resumed and moved harmoniously until the close of the ballot.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

While the Secretaries were counting the ballot the Chairman read the report of the Committee on Resolutions.

[The resolutions were the same as introduced in the Judicial Convention, the Twelfth being omitted by the Committee.]

Mr. R. C. Elliott moved to amend by striking out the Eighth.

The amendment was almost unanimously voted down.

The resolutions, as read, were then enthusiastically adopted.

FIRST BALLOT.

The result of the first ballot was announced as follows:

SENATE.
